Welcome to 108 Latham Circle, a masterpiece of craftsmanship - a gem in the crown of the popular Upstate Village of Saugerties NY. This American Arts and Crafts house, built in 1917, stands as a tribute to an era that sought to balance tradition and progress, the hand-made and the high-tech. The intricate details, natural materials, and natural colors of the Arts and Crafts style were an architectural rebellion against the mass production brought about by the Industrial Revolution. This unique home celebrates that heritage while embracing the conveniences of modern living. Stepping inside, you will be transported to a time when attention to detail was paramount. The character of the house has been perfectly maintained while necessary updates such as a new plumbing infrastructure, electrical system, geothermal heat and AC have been cleverly hidden to provide comfort and sustainability for years to come without destroying the illusion of living in a simpler, easier time. Throughout the home, wherever new woodwork has been added to accommodate updates, it has been meticulously crafted to mirror the original with matching stains, varnishes, and materials. The first-floor primary suite is a novel-worthy setting - an oasis of tranquility with a romantic double-sided fireplace and a custom walk-in closet that's a work of utilitarian luxury. The kitchen exudes elegance with granite countertops, GE Profile appliances, beadboard ceilings, built-in banquette seating and custom cabinets that were milled to replicate the 1940's style. The artistry of the original stained-glass windows is captivating; casting colorful patterns on the hickory flooring. Step outside onto the covered porch and you'll find a perfect spot to savor the natural beauty that surrounds the property; a place where birds sing, Overlook Mountain and the mighty Hudson River punctuate the view, and majestic eagles nest nearby. At night, the elevated location, undisturbed by light pollution, allows views of a stunning canopy of stars. The famous Saugerties Lighthouse and surrounding trails, all the shops and restaurants in the charming Village and HITS are just about 5 minutes away and NYC is under 2 hours away. Over 106 years of devoted attention have kept this home in impeccable condition. Perhaps it is your turn to enjoy it!
