Residential on 0 Acres

N/A, Kingston, NY

Beautiful Victorian on a hill was built with no expenses spared. Wraparound porch is made of blue stone, polished oak floors that lead to a separate entrance of two rooms, (which was once a doctor's office), and a private full bathroom. Enter the main doorway, two parlor rooms divided by French and pocket doors each with their own matching white Italian marble fireplace, hand-carved moldings, built-in bookshelves, and herringbone inlay floors gleam throughout. The grand dining room has tiger chestnut woodwork, a dumbwaiter, its own entranceway from the widened driveway, swinging saloon doors to the galley kitchen where breakfast was one served to people from all around the world when it was a boutique bed-and-breakfast for 20 years. The wood pellet stove is an added feature that makes it great for digestion, relaxation, and warmth while dining. All bathrooms have frosted glass windows, new toilets, and spacious built-in cabinets designed for two. Walk-through closets on the first and second floors lead from one room to the other. Wide board floors grace the second floor and the two-room attic. The house faces a church with stained glass windows aglow at night. The dry, full basement exposes its stone foundation. The house was recently inspected with favorable results. There's a private en-suite with a living room on the first floor, its own skeleton key. The owner is willing to hold a mortgage. A minute from Kingston Hospital! Minutes from NYS thruway, restaurants, coffee shops, art museums, hospital and just under 2 hours to NYC, experience the best of Kingston in paradise. The property also falls in the Highly Desirable RT, Rondout District zone, allowing for Mixed use commercial/residential, live/work, multi-family, retail, restaurant etc. Owner would be willing to hold the mortgage to a qualified buyer with a large down payment.
